WHAT'S AWESOME ABOUT MONTREAL?

Montreal is an amazing place to visit, study, and live. Ask anyone who's been! As Canada's second largest city, this island-metropolis is as welcoming as it is dynamic. With English and French spoken in equal proportion, Montreal is known as the most European city in North America.

Home to 4 major universities in its downtown core, Montreal is a place where students from all corners of the globe come together, and both Canadian and international students are quick to feel at home. Our summers may be hot and our winters cold, but as Montrealers are famous for their friendliness and "joie de vivre", there is more fun to be had than you can ever imagine.

Fresh air & cultural activities

In addition to its many festivals throughout the year, Montreal is a vibrant city that offers fun and affordable activities 365 days a year.

For the more outdoorsy types, cycling, snowboarding, hiking, river rafting, river surfing, mountain biking, and other such outdoor sports can be enjoyed either in the city itself or nearby. For those who prefer the cultural scene, Montreal is home to a number of world-class museums and is celebrated for its restaurants, concerts, shows, and incredible nightlife.

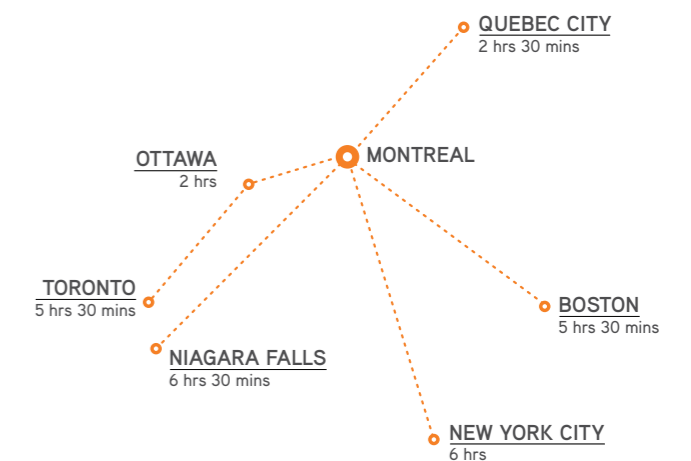

Getting around & venturing out

Montreal is a cosmopolitan city with a great public transportation system. Getting around by bus, subway, and commuter train is easy, safe, and affordable.

Montreal's BIXI system is an awesome public bicycle sharing program that allows you to get around the city by bike whenever you need to for a small rental fee. How great is that!

A few cities within driving distance:

If you're looking for a day trip or a weekend away, there are tons of other interesting places to visit that are near by car, airplane, or train. Check them out:

What's great about Canada?

A lot of people know Canada as a stable, safe, and welcoming place, but very few know how great it really is. Besides being the second largest country in the world, here are a few facts about Canada that we think will convince you to come visit us:

We have 4 distinct seasons, which means that throughout the year you can do all kinds of fun stuff like surf, go ice skating, hike through autumnal forests, and have dinner with friends on a patio.

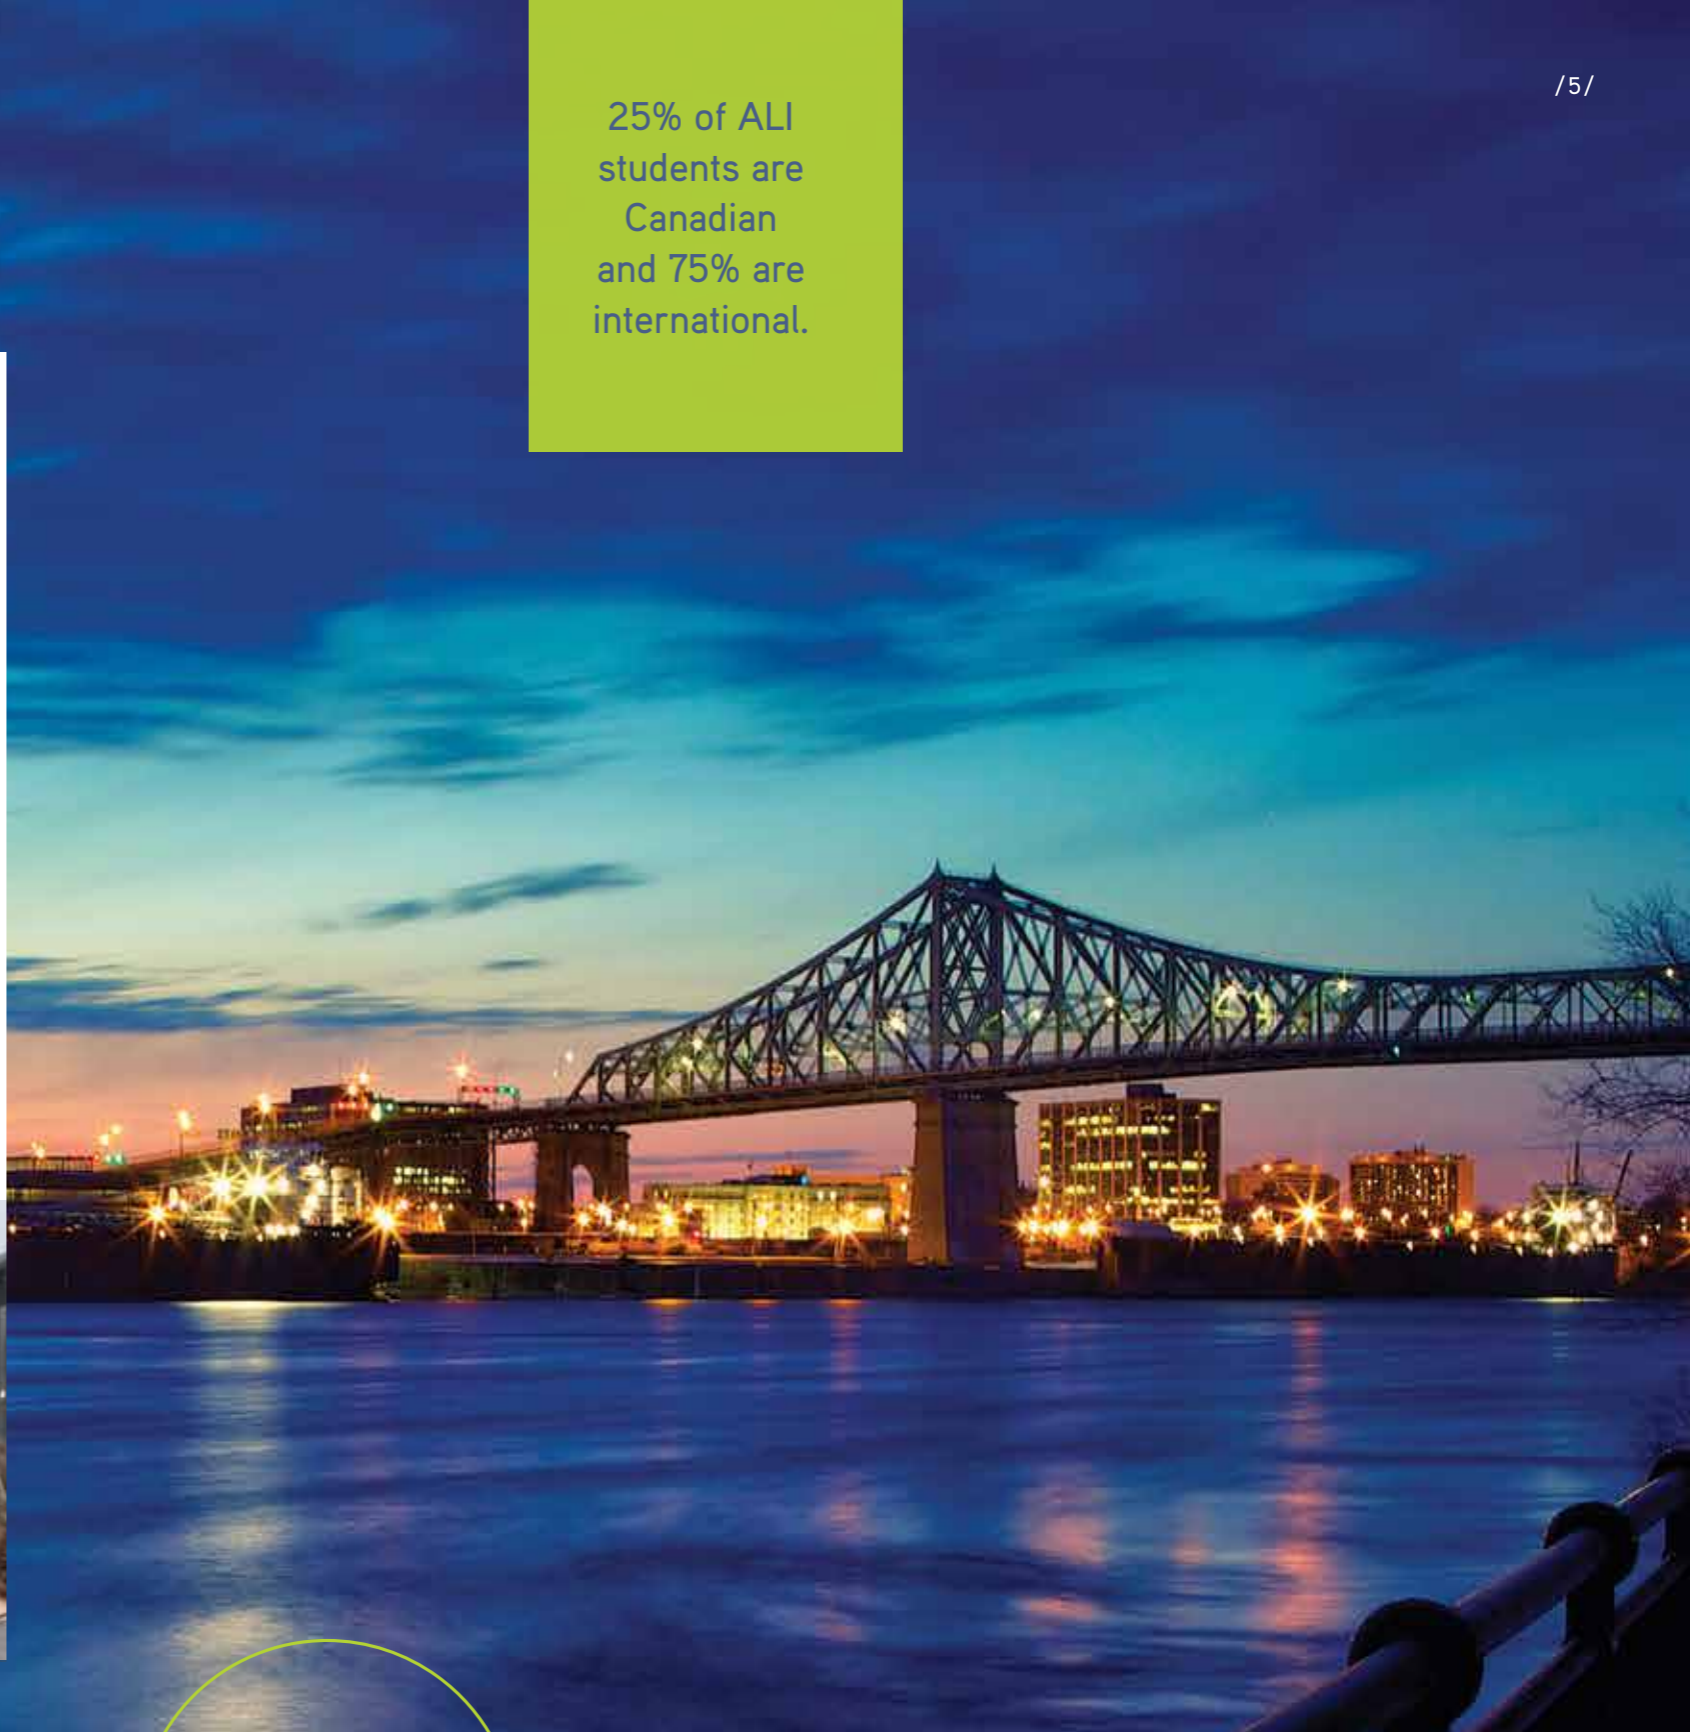

With two official languages (English and French), and dozens more spoken in the home and on the street, Canada is an incredibly open, multi-cultural country that celebrates all heritages and lifestyles.

As a world leader in teaching English and French as a second language, the Canadian education system is highly recognized worldwide and Canadian diplomas and certificates are valued internationally.

A GREAT PLACE TO LEARN ENGLISH OR FRENCH (or both!)

Montreal is recognized as the educational capital of Canada, and is the world's most recognized bilingual city for English and French. This means that your learning experience will be completely immersive and go far beyond the confines of the classroom.

25% of ALI students are Canadian and 75% are international.

Montreal is ranked as one of the top 10 student city destinations in 2012¹

Montreal has the second largest number of students (over 90,000) in North America, 21% of which are international students

Montreal is home to McGill University (ranked within the top 30 universities worldwide), as well as 3 other major universities and dozens of public and private colleges

Montreal has a lower cost of living when compared to Toronto and Vancouver

TEACHING METHODOLOGY & PROGRAMS

Since 1993, ALI has been teaching English and French to people from Canada and around the world, helping them to learn a new language and fulfill their life goals.

We're committed to our students' learning process and satisfaction. We achieve this by stressing the importance of communication and interaction. Our teaching methodology uses a communicative approach: we strive to combine academic development with practical use of a language, providing students with the tools to use their language of choice in real-life situations.

ALI programs focus on language as a natural process of learning, concentrating on developing 4 skills with a solid grammatical base. These 4 skills are taught using contextualized activities, conversations, role-playing, and presentations.

ALI offers dynamic, communicative English and French classes for all levels of learners, from complete beginners to advanced speakers.

English & French as a second language classes

In our programs, students are taught standard spoken & written English or French, as well as the language's informal use (such as idioms and slang). We offer 3 main programs to choose from, as well as several elective classes, allowing each student to select the learning focus of their choice.

ALI ACCOMMODATION SERVICES

Find the perfect place to stay!

ALI helps our students find comfortable accommodations in Montreal and can help you organize a homestay with a host family or set-up residence in a student shared apartment here.

When I arrived in Canada I could barely speak English. With the help of my Canadian family I practiced every day after school and my progress has been remarkable. I really felt like part of the family.
